

It is important to follow this process when conducting risk management as this ensures that the CCSTD approach to risk management is both comprehensive and consistent.

In accordance with CCSTD Risk Management Procedure, these risk management procedures will be applied to strategic risks, emerging new business risks and operational risks.

A detailed step by step guide for following these risk management procedures is provided in the following table.

The outcomes of this procedure will be documented in a risk register.